Enrollment Management & Student Affairs - Lori Klein, Vice Chancellor

Admissions & Recruiting & Advising

- One request from all three UA universities for the names of Alaska Seniors will go to school districts by the close of next week. This will form the basis for our Alaska recruitment for Fall 2022 (access, diversity, collaboration, stewardship)
- Due to the high rates of COVID throughout Alaska, the UAS recruiters will not be on the road this fall, although we will revisit this decision monthly. We are working with alumni and other supporters of UAS to be present at in-person college and career fairs typically held in the fall semester (access, collaboration, excellence, diversity, sustainability).

- Members of the Admissions team will be attending the National Association for College Admissions Counseling Virtual Conference next week (access, sustainability, stewardship, excellence).
- The Regional Advising Group continues to work with the Registrar to revise academic standing letters. The group is also working with Admissions and reviewing acceptance letters. After the review and revision process, we would like to have letters that are easy to understand, provide next steps and resources, and that are psychologically attuned to sometimes sensitive situations (academic probation/warning letters). (access, collaboration, excellence, diversity)
- Several UAS speakers are slotted for the UA Student Success Convening that takes place virtually on Thursday, Oct. 14th - Friday, Oct. 15th from 9am-1pm. Speakers include: Jonas Lamb -- Open or Zero Cost Resources & Student Success; Amanda Triplett -- Navigating Critical Conversations with Students: Practical Approaches for Academic Coaching and How Have You Reached Your Students, panel session; Maren Haavig -- Opening keynote speaker on day 2; Ronalda Cadiante Brown -- Alaska Native Success Initiative, panel session. (excellence, diversity, access, collaboration, sustainability)
- After two pilot semesters, UAS is embedding the Retention through Intervention initiative into a formal retention program. Faculty teaching gateway courses are encouraged to participate and all faculty are welcome to participate. For Fall 2021, 24 faculty spanning 45 classes are registered. Students in participating classes will mid-term grades and early intervention prior to midterms if they are at risk of failing (access, collaboration, diversity, stewardship, sustainability, excellence)
- Study Away: We have 10 outbound students in Colorado, Idaho, Minnesota, Florida, the Virgin Islands, England, Germany, and Costa Rica. We are hosting 12 students from New Hampshire, Hawaii, New York, Wisconsin, Illinois, Colorado, New Mexico, Germany, Japan, and England. (access, diversity, excellence, collaboration)
- The Student Resource Center hosts and offers a wide variety of student services and is fully open to walk-in traffic: general advising, career services, counseling, disability services, health clinic, Native and Rural Student Center. (access, sustainability, collaboration)
- Career Services - UAS, UAA, and UAS are hosting a virtual Career Fair on October 27, from 11-3pm. Over 30 employers have registered, and over 50 students have registered a day after student registration opened.. Career Services is available to provide cover letter and resume sessions for academic faculty - many thanks to the School of Ed faculty for hosting a session in September. (excellence, access, stewardship, collaboration, diversity)
- Veteran Services - all 53 students using the GI Bill this fall semester have begun this semester strong. On Friday, October 1, a virtual orientation for new VA students will be held beginning from 12-1pm. Staff and faculty are welcome to pop in and say hi within the first 20 minutes before the session begins. A redesign of the UAS Veterans website will hopefully be completed by the end of the semester. (excellence, access, collaboration, sustainability, stewardship, diversity)

UAS STEPS Grant (Supporting Transitions and Educational Promise Southeast Alaska) Promise Neighborhoods Grant

- UAS STEPS is sponsoring a media project aimed at helping prospective students pay for college. The collaborative project focuses on the Free Application For Student Aid (FAFSA) and funding opportunities and carries a SE Alaska theme. (access, diversity, collaboration, excellence)
- The STEPS Successful Scholars program is encouraging eligible students to enroll in the non-credit study hall course offered this semester on Fridays 12-1:30pm. In addition to providing homework help, the course also offers guidance and support to students through workshops, meals, and school supplies/apps. (access, diversity, excellence, collaboration)

Creative Agency

- Webteam hard at work on campus sites, Egan Library, Office of Equity and Compliance, Campus Master Plan and more. (collaboration, access, diversity, stewardship)
- Recruitment campaigns are being designed and launched and social media is profiling UAS success stories. (access, diversity, collaboration, excellence)
- New photography of campus, classes and housing will be refreshing the web, social, and print materials soon. (access, diversity, collaboration, excellence, stewardship)

Financial Aid

- Completing our Fiscal Operations Report and Application to Participate (FISAP) and closing 2021 funds (excellence, access, collaboration)
- The UA Foundation has a new platform for our scholarships - we are moving from Academic Works to Kaleidoscope. This will be up and running for the 2022-2023 application year starting October 1st. (access, collaboration, sustainability, stewardship)
- Working on sending out a Fin Aid newsletter to our students (access, sustainability, stewardship)
- Planning Financial Aid Night and a FAFSA with our local high schools (access, collaboration, sustainability, stewardship)

Registrar's Office

- Juneau Campus is now live with CLSS (CourseLeaf Section Scheduler) and we are starting with the Spring 2022 semester course schedule. (access, collaboration, sustainability, stewardship)
- We are in the final stages of hiring for our Academic Scheduling and Curriculum Coordinator. (access, diversity, collaboration)
- FYI: We are now in the withdrawal period for full-term courses.

Dean of Students / Campus Life

Residence Life, Housing & Dining

- FYI Staff Updates: Kayla Hood has officially begun work in her new role as the Guest Services Coordinator for Residence Life. Jacob Durrance is our new Residence Life Coordinator and live-in staff member for John Pugh Hall.
- The Lakeside Grill is being renamed! New signage will be up soon reflecting the new title: Lakeside Grill & Market. Future references to the grill will refer to grill service only -- burgers, quesadillas, etc. All other services (hotline, salad bar, sandwich bar, soups, grab and go, etc.) are all now a part of the "Market." (excellence, access, sustainability, stewardship)
- FYI: Fall Open Freeze Housing Occupancy: 52.05%, up from 33.97% (Fall 2020) and slightly down from Fall 2019 (58.26%).
- 100% of residents are in compliance with the COVID vaccination policy. 95% are vaccinated, 5% have an approved exemption. (sustainability, excellence, access, stewardship)

Native & Rural Student Center

- FYI: Our Sealaska Heritage Institute Summer Intern Aidan Bowers, his Tlingit name is Kuchein, joined our NRSC family as one of the Student Assistants.
- We have 4 clubs in the progress of getting started (all at different stages), Wooch.Een, Xaadkil - Haida language club, Traditional Games club, and Generation Action club. (excellence, access, diversity, sustainability, collaboration, stewardship)

Student Engagement & Leadership

- FYI: Mallory Nash joins us as the new Student Engagement Manager.
- Student Government elections take place from Sept. 27th-29th. (access, diversity, excellence, collaboration, stewardship).

Disability Services, Health Clinic & Counseling

- As of 9/13, 62 students have requested accommodations for disabilities. Additional outreach will occur to students previously registered. (access, diversity, excellence, collaboration).
- The UA DS Offices will be hosting a virtual conference October 26th - November 5th, with sessions hosted 3 times per week. (excellence, collaboration, stewardship)
- DS Office will provide services to students needing pregnancy accommodations. (access, diversity, excellence, collaboration)
- The Health clinic has served 28 students so far this semester for a total of 38 visits. Students are able to schedule both in-person and telemedicine visits and the clinic is now able to offer the full range of services including prescription refills, physical exams, tuberculosis testing, laboratory tests, reproductive health, mental health referrals and treatment of minor injuries and illness. (access, excellence, collaboration, sustainability)

- There will be a Fall Wellness Event on October 7th sponsored by the Counseling, Disability Services, Health Clinic and the NRSC. (access, collaboration, excellence, stewardship, sustainability)

Recreation Center

- FYI: All sStudent staff positions have been filled with the latest addition of a climbing coordinator.
- The Climbing wall opened Monday (Sept. 13th) for the first time in over a year. Mitigations will include use of masks and only 4 climbers at a time. (access, excellence, stewardship, sustainability)
- The Rec is increasing access for UA students and alumni. UAS graduates now have their own membership track, and UAA and UAF students living in Juneau can use the REC Center as an extension of the fees they pay to UAA or UAF. Many thanks to IT for their help with the ID system. (access, excellence, collaboration).
- UAS will be the venue for Ironman Alaska-IM. A full triathlon will be held in August 2022 with smaller events scheduled for August 2023 and 2024. The August 2022 event sold out in record breaking time and is being considered a premier destination. A small team from Ironman will be on campus the week of October 4-9 for measurements of the course and campus. (collaboration, stewardships, excellence, access, diversity)

Institutional Effectiveness - Kristen Handley

- The UAS family welcomes Hunter Michael Handley, born to Kristen and her husband Greg on September 10, 2021. Everyone is doing great. If you need assistance from the IE office, please email Kristen and Maren.

School of Arts & Sciences - Carin Silkaitis, Dean

- A&S will be searching for a new Admin Generalist 3. This person will work in the Anderson Building. We are so happy to announce that Angie Kameroff-Steeves has accepted a position in the Chancellor's Office where she will be taking on a new administrative role. In this position, Angie will serve both the Chancellor's and the Provost's Office as well as IT/Admin Service. Angie's first day in her new role was Monday September 13.
- I was honored to testify at the Board of Regents meeting about my experiences at UAS thus far. I glowed about my colleagues, bragged about faculty accomplishments, and was thrilled to talk about the exciting undergraduate research happening in your classrooms and labs.
- I have had productive Dean's Council meetings with Dept. Chairs on the following subject areas: workloads, PCO's, budgets, recruitment/enrollment, retention, and so much more.
- I am looking forward to further conversation about the future of A&S including our mission, vision, name and strategic plan.
- I will be visiting our Sitka and Ketchikan campuses in early October. I look forward to reporting on those visits in the next Chancellor's Newsletter.

Research

- This week, Kelly Jensen and Leah Gregg are reinstating the UAS PI Alert emails. These emails serve as policy and planning notifications to interested Principal Investigators and other UAS personnel. Sent at timely intervals, these include information about funding opportunities and administration for sponsored programs. If you receive the email and wish to be removed, or, if you do not receive the emails and want them, please email Kelly or Leah.

ACRC

- The Alaska Coastal Rainforest Center (ACRC) had a very successful 2020-2021 year with a number of new research grants, over-the-summer student research projects, publications, and consultations with an expanding group of stakeholders.
- For pre-award, we're gearing up for the sixth round of EPSCoR (pre-proposals are due October 1) and Jason Fellman will be the UAS PI.
- You can get the details in our latest newsletter and forthcoming 2021 Report. Contact Molly Tankersley mdtankersley@alaska.edu to get on the mailing list for all the latest news on ACRC, or check our website: <https://acrc.alaska.edu/articles/index.html>. (We would love to have more UAS faculty and staff join our mailing list!)
- The ACRC is also very pleased to welcome John Harley back as a Research Assistant Professor of Environmental Science. John was a Postdoctoral Fellow with the ACRC from 2018 - 2020. His research interests are centered around environmental health and toxicology, and is currently focused on examining how traditional ecological knowledge can expand our understanding of harmful algal blooms and shellfish toxins. John's first day back at UAS was September 1.

Natural Sciences

- The Biology/Marine Biology program welcomes UAS Marine Biology graduate, JoMarie Alba, back as a Term Assistant Professor of Biology.
- The Biology faculty met with Dr. Marina La Salle, Director, Culture and History Department at Sealaska Heritage to discuss collaborations.
- Heidi Pearson gave the first Evening at Egan lecture of the Fall 2021 season: "Humpback Whales and Tourism in Juneau - What Can We Learn from the COVID-19 Pandemic?"
- The UAS Math Club will be creating puzzles for the Whalesong again this year
- Andrzej Piotrowski is volunteering as a Math Coach for "Enigma," the math club for Juneau area high schools.

Business & Public Administration

- BPA submitted their ACBSP accreditation report
- We will be searching for a tenure-track faculty member in Accounting.

Social Sciences

- The Ted Stevens Legislative Internship program is on track to begin again this spring. Elizabeth Bolling has been actively recruiting within UAS and around the state in preparation for the November 1st application packet deadline. Students do not need to be political science students to be accepted into the program, and more information can be found at <https://uas.alaska.edu/internprogram/> or by contacting Elizabeth directly at ebolling@live.com

Humanities

- Carin Silkaitis, Davina Cole and Liz Zacher are working with Sealaska Heritage on a series of promo videos highlighting Northwest Coast Art. There will be three 30-second videos that will feature UAS, our classes/instructors and these beautiful indigenous art forms. Davina is handling on-the-ground/shooting logistics, Liz is brainstorming narrative/through-line, and Carin will take the lead on storyboarding approvals/final creative input.
- Forest Wagner has been leading ODS programming over the last three weekends. He reported blue skies for the rock climbing outing and light winds for sea kayaking. Smiles all around coming from our students. Forest also sent some excellent photos for social media! We would love more of those from faculty.
- Kevin Krein was a guest lecturer in UAA's philosophy class on Kant.

Alaska Native Programs/PITAAS - Ronalda Cadiente Brown

- I continue to support the grants with Sealaska Heritage Institute:
- Box of Treasures: weekly meetings. The Box of Treasures grant is awaiting U.S. Department of Education review.
Language Pathways: weekly meetings. New staff hire, Judith Ramos joined UAS as program manager and relocated to Juneau from Anchorage and is onsite as of 9/12/21.
- The PITAAS Program completed fall 2021 scholarship awards in the amount of $151,109 (27 Education program students) and Cultural scholarships awards in the amount of $37,536 (31 students)
- David Russell-Jensen has accepted a position with Sealaska Heritage Institute. His last day is September 20. As an alumni of UAS and a dedicated worker, he has contributed greatly to our purpose and mission.
- I joined the School of Education retreat and faculty meetings to contribute to the development of core beliefs and recruitment planning in support of CAEP accreditation and program development.
- The Alaska Native Success Initiative steering committee committee held its first meeting on Sep 1, 2021, welcoming Dr. Pearl Brower as lead on this initiative. Joe Nelson has agreed to serve as co-chair of the UAS committee.
- Committee meetings in the past month included the Master Plan Advisory Committee, Honorary Doctorate & Meritorious Service Award, and Chancellor's Advisory Committee on Alaska Native Education.
- I continue to meet with the Association of Alaska School Boards and the Department of Education and Early Development representatives to explore the viability of a culturally responsive school leadership endorsement.

Public Information Office - Keni Campbell

- Evening at Egan - Registration/viewing links to all Evening at Egan lectures can be found at uas.alaska.edu/eganlecture --- and all of our past lectures can be found on our UASoutheast Youtube channel.
- Radio - We currently have 1 spot per month on both KTOO and KINY that are regular -- KINY is the last Thursday of the month at 8:30 AM and KTOO moves around a little, generally on Wednesdays near mid or end of month. However, I can help you connect with the radio stations to be a guest on one of their programs at other times if you would like to promote something you are working on.

Recent UAS guests:

PRESS RELEASES

You can send ideas and materials for press releases through our internal form here. You can submit full write-ups, photos, or even just some bullet points to get me started. Quotes and photos are always great things to enhance our releases and make them more likely to get picked up. Help us tell your story! All press releases from current times going back to 2007 are posted on the site uas.alaska.edu/about/press-releases/ The most recent press releases are:

- UAS Celebrates PITAAS scholar Melissa Brooks-Johnson, Named Interim Superintendent for the Ketchikan Gateway Borough School District
- UAS Evening at Egan Speaker Mischa Jackson to Present "Alaska Native Education: The Power of Acknowledgment," September 17
- UAS Welcomes New Leaders in Alaska Native Studies, Equity & Compliance, and Education
- Evening at Egan Fall Lecture Series Begins Friday, September 10
- UAS Celebrates 2021 Faculty Excellence, Promotions & Tenure

Development & Alumni Relations - Lynne Johnson, Director

We hope you will join us for these upcoming events:

- Whales 101 with Dr. Heidi Pierson - September 29th
- E*sports Space Reveal for Student Alumni at the Tech Center-- October 1st
- Tlingit 101 -- October 21st
- Giving Day -- November 9th

Egan Library - Elise Tomlinson, Dean

Library

- Starting September 13, Egan Library will be opening at 9 am Monday-Friday, instead of 8 am.
- The Egan Library's Childrens' Alaskana fund has reached endowment level. This means we will be able to start purchasing additional new books for the Katie Spangler Childrens' Alaska collection as soon as there are sufficient earnings in the fund. Many thanks to everyone who has contributed to this fund over the years.

Writing Center

- The Writing Center has hired several new tutors and Jessy is hopeful to be able to start offering Sunday hours soon. Multiple professors have brought their students to visit the WC or had a tutor visit their class. This is really boosting their appointment demand for both in person and for online appointments.

Learning/Testing Center

- The Learning Center is currently hiring students to tutor in Math, Biology, and chemistry. Things seem to be going smoothly, and they have a pretty strong cohort of regular students spending time in the LC. They have started administering exams for regular on campus courses, usage numbers there too seem to be well within a safe range to reasonably manage.

CELT

- Trudy met with the Faculty Senate to let them know what CELT has to offer this semester and invited them to participate in programs and to help spread the word.
- The first Tech Toolbox Tuesday workshop was this week. We're looking for more ways to spread the word and garner participation. Videos of the Tech Toolbox Tuesday programs will be posted, but the format has not been decided yet.
