

JUST & REGENERATIVE BUSINESS IN ALASKA

A statewide 3-lecture series sponsored by the Educational Legacy Fund

The just and regenerative business mindset recognizes interdependence with other people and ecosystems to enable the business and all living beings to thrive.

Lessons from Indigenous Tourism for a Regenerative Future

Alexis Bunten, PhD (Unangan/Yup'ik)
Author, Indigenous Tourism Movements

Can tourism provide economic diversification, protect ecosystems, and perpetuate local cultures? New, Indigenous tourism business models value community, environmental stewardship, and the quadruple bottom line (people, planet, profit, purpose).

Live from the Egan Library in Juneau!

In partnership with the Evening at Egan speaker series

▶ LIVE STREAM

OCT
28

Lessons from Indigenous Tourism
for a Regenerative
Future

MAR
02

One Health:
Global Impact,
Coordination, and Collaboration

SPRING
23

Sustainability
In Business and Economics